Better care, more locally, within budget, through transformation

Issue 16

December 2014

Welcome to CCG News

Hello and welcome to the winter edition of ERY CCG News. In this issue we talk about the need to look after yourself over the winter period. Throughout winter there is extreme pressure on NHS urgent and emergency care services. We want to make sure you not only keep well, but know what to do if you are feeling unwell.

Over the last 2 years we have been working towards improving the facilities at Goole Hospital to ensure they offer clinically safe and affordable services that meet the needs of our local population and continue to do so for future generations. It's an exciting time as our vision becomes a reality with work streams coming together to implement action plans. You can read more about this on page two.

Other highlights include the opening of the new Market Weighton surgery offering much more care and treatment to people in their local area and the launch of a new website giving help and advice to children and young people with Special Education Needs and Disability (SEND)

Finally, I would like to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and look forward to catching up with you all in the new year.

In the meantime please keep up to date with our latest news online at www.eastridingccg.nhs.net

Feeling under the weather

With the arrival of cold, wet and windy weather, we are urging people to look after themselves this winter.

Look after yourself

There are many ways you can keep well this season. First and foremost, look after yourself, keep warm and eat well. Self-treat minor illnesses and injuries at home by keeping your medicine cabinet and first aid kit well stocked. The main symptoms of winter bugs are coughing, sneezing, blocked nose, sore throat, headache and a slight temperature, with self medication they will clear up in a few days

Advice for people over 60

When you're over 60 sometimes a minor illness can get worse very quickly and could lead to you being admitted to hospital for treatment. Speak to your friends, family or carer as soon as possible. You can also pop down to your local pharmacy for quick health advice on how to manage your symptoms before you become worse and you can buy over-the-counter medicine.

Not sure where to go

If you are unwell and unsure of where to go then call NHS 111 for all non-emergency health advice, including if you feel you need to see a GP at night or weekends, information about your nearest Minor Injury Unit or local pharmacist.

Don't forget your flu jab!

If you're eligible for the flu vaccine, don't put it off. It's extremely important that people who are at increased risk from flu have their vaccination as early as possible.

The vaccine is available free on the NHS for:

- Pregnant women
- Children aged two to four
- Children aged 6 months - 18 years with a long-term health condition (as an injection for children aged 6 months to 2 years; as a nasal spray for children aged 2 to 18 years)
- Adults aged 65 or older
- People with a serious medical condition
- Healthcare workers or carers
- People living in a residential or nursing home

Where to go for your flu jab

Many practices have organised special flu vaccination clinics. Details of when these are and how to book can often be found on practices' web sites. Alternatively ring your GP to make an appointment for the vaccine.

Building a Healthy, Sustainable Future for Goole Hospital

Building a Healthy Sustainable Future for Goole Hospital is our vision to ensure that Goole and District Hospital offers clinically safe, sustainable and affordable services well into the future. We are acting now to ensure that Goole Hospital is a modern asset to the local community that provides a range of services to meet the health and wellbeing needs of the local population. Our proposals for the future of Goole Hospital build on thinking which has been developed jointly between Northern Lincolnshire and Goole NHS Foundation Trust (NLAG), local GP practices, hospital governors and staff, local MP, local Councillors, Healthwatch and the voluntary and community sector. We have now set up a Partnership Board and Workstreams and we are in the early stages of future planning.

Medical Inpatient Beds workstream

Better utilisation of the inpatient beds by continuing to support rehabilitation, and further developing palliative care services and step up / step down care.

Minor Injury Services workstream

Ensuring the Minor Injury service continues to offer high quality, safe services.

Health Campus workstream

Developing the Goole Hospital site into a Health Campus providing a wider range of complementary health and wellbeing services that better meet the needs of the local population.

Elective Care Services workstream

Supporting NLAG to develop the range of services on offer and raise the profile of Goole Hospital as a great choice for planned surgery and for receiving outpatients, diagnostics and day case treatment.

Locality Hub Pilot

The review of Goole Hospital also complements a new Locality Hub Pilot in the Goole, Howdenshire and West Wolds area which launched at the end of October and will run for 12 months as part of our Community Strategy programme. The Locality Hub provides rapid access to urgent care services in the community for a high risk patient cohort. Local GPs are the first in the East Riding of Yorkshire to lead developments and test out this innovative way of working, together with local community services provided by the Humber NHS Foundation Trust and Social Care from the East Riding of Yorkshire Council.

Healthy Lives, Healthy Futures

Following a 12 week public consultation period both North Lincolnshire Clinical Commissioning Group and North East Lincolnshire Clinical Commissioning Group decided on Thursday 13 November to take forward their preferred proposals for Hyper-Acute Stroke Services and Ear, Nose and Throat (ENT) inpatient surgery in Northern Lincolnshire.

This means Hyper-Acute stroke services will continue to operate at Scunthorpe General Hospital, making permanent the temporary arrangements put in place for safety reasons following the Keogh review back in 2013. Anyone having a stroke in the local area will go to Scunthorpe for up to the first 72 hours of their care. After this period, patients needing on-going treatment and monitoring will receive this at a hospital nearest to their home.

The change for ear, nose and throat services is inpatient surgery. Patients needing emergency or planned surgery which requires a stay in hospital for one or more nights will have their operation at Diana Princess of Wales hospital in Grimsby and remain on the ward after their operation. All other ear, nose and throat services will remain at both Grimsby and Scunthorpe,

These changes will affect a number of Goole patients requiring ENT inpatient surgery. As patients will need to choose to go to Grimsby Diana Princess of Wales Hospital or Hull & East Yorkshire Hospitals NHS Trust.

Supporting Hull's Accident & Emergency Department

The A&E in Hull has been experiencing pressures for some time. Unfortunately, plans to expand the A&E Department have been delayed and the Trust has been unable to recruit to essential A&E Consultant posts. This, coupled with the onset of winter, is having a significant impact and A&E performance continues to be at levels well below both our expectations and the national standard.

As a CCG, we are supporting Hull A&E in a number of ways, including helping to fund some new patient pathways and extended services aimed at taking the pressure off A&E and improving the patient experience:

- The ambulatory care service opened on 10 December 2014.
- An increase in Mental Health Liaison capacity in A&E from January 2015.
- The frailty unit is now due to open in February 2015.
- Increasing low acuity transport to support GP decisions to admit.
- The rapid access to treatment team - currently in place.
- Increase in social care capacity over the weekends available 10 am - 8 pm Saturday and Sunday - currently in place.

Other initiatives that will positively impact on decreasing pressure on Hull's A&E Department:

- Primary and community care urgent response service in the Goole, Howdenshire and West Wolds area - operational since late October.
- Weekend opening of the Minor Injury Unit at East Riding Community Hospital.

With the extra delay caused by building work, and in anticipation of Winter Surge, we have also agreed to commission:

- An increase in capacity for the Integrated Hospital Team to speed up hospital discharge.
- The transfer of use of 4 beds at East Riding Community Hospital from day case to inpatient.
- Extra surge bed capacity is also being sought at Withernsea and Beverley Community Hospitals.

CCGs to become co-commissioners for primary care and some specialist NHS services

In November 2014, NHS England published a draft framework for co-commissioning of primary care services (GP, pharmacy, dental and ophthalmic services) for consideration by CCGs. The proposals also include some specialised NHS services (for example, obesity surgery, renal dialysis and wheelchair services).

When CCGs were introduced in 2012, responsibility for primary care commissioning was given to NHS England to avoid any conflict of interest that could arise from GPs being involved in the commissioning of services that they also provide.

Co-commissioning is recognition that delegating responsibility for primary care commissioning to CCGs is in the best interest of patients because CCGs are GP-led organisations that understand primary care and have a focus on improving quality across all practices in their own geographical area.

At the same time, individual GPs will also be conflicted in specific decisions about primary care commissioning due to their ties to the CCG. In order to harness the benefits of co-commissioning, yet guard fully against the risks, NHS England has developed robust new and transparent arrangements for managing perceived and actual conflicts of interest.

Three options for co-commissioning are offered in the NHS England guidance:

- Greater involvement - no change to CCG Governance required
- Joint committee with NHS England - to jointly commission services
- Full delegation to CCG's - to take full responsibility for commissioning

Our Council of Members considered the document at their meeting in November and voted for Option (ii). NHS England will now progress plans so that CCGs can co-commission primary care and some specialist services from April 2015.

Service Re-design and Commissioning Committee (SRCC) Update

Knowledge Based Commissioning

Good commissioning places patients at the heart of the decision making process. The use of the principle and process of Knowledge Based Commissioning was discussed and supported by SRCC members. An implementation plan, which will be taken forward by the Medical Advisor, will now be developed to communicate the model and embed this approach within general CCG systems and processes. The concept will be discussed with localities and other forums to get a wider stakeholder view before a final implementation plan is agreed.

Live Well

The need to commission a Multi-Disciplinary Team to supplement Live Well to ensure that the service better complies with Tier 3 weight management guidelines has been supported. A specification for a Tier 3 MDT will be developed by early January 2015.

Living well with dementia in the East Riding of Yorkshire

Dementia has been described as the biggest health and care problem of a generation with someone diagnosed every four seconds. It has a huge bearing on people's lives, their relationships and their confidence to carry out daily tasks and activities. It also has an enormous impact on their quality of life and that of their carers, family and friends.

NHS East Riding of Yorkshire Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) want to tackle this, improve the wellbeing of those with dementia and help them to live as independently and safely as possible whilst still playing an active part in their community.

We're doing this by supporting our clinicians to increase their awareness and understanding of the signs and symptoms of dementia through education and training. This will allow clinicians to diagnose the condition earlier which offers many benefits.

Benefits of an early dementia diagnosis

Patient benefits

- Evidence shows that an early diagnosis can enable someone with dementia to live independently in their own home for longer. This helps to avoid early or unnecessary hospital or care home admissions, which ultimately enhances that person's quality of life and that of their carer
- Patients receive the correct treatment for their symptoms. If a patient is diagnosed with dementia then early treatment can be more effective
- Patients and carers can get hold of the necessary relevant help and advice, be confident in planning for the future and empowered to get appropriate financial benefits and entitlements such as disability living allowance and council tax reduction
- Patients and carers can receive the support they need e.g. from social services, day centres, respite care, community mental health teams, occupational therapists, carer support groups and the Alzheimer's Society

GP Benefits

- Diagnosing vascular dementia allows clinicians to appropriately treat cardiovascular risk factors
- Knowing a patient has dementia assists clinicians in treating other medical problems e.g. improved medication management, spending time to explain things to patients and offering extra support. It also helps to alleviate repeat presentations to GP surgeries
- The right diagnosis is important for research purposes, understanding more about the causes of dementia will help to find better treatments in the future
- Improved recognition of how important and common the causes of dementia are is vital for planning services to provide enhanced help and support to patients

Dementia services in the East Riding of Yorkshire

Alzheimer's Society

The Alzheimer's Society provides a range of services to support people with dementia, their families and carers in the East Riding of Yorkshire

Dementia Adviser

The initial point of contact for people newly diagnosed with dementia, and carers in need of information. A Dementia Adviser will carry out an assessment of the person's needs, provide individualised information on what support is available and be an ongoing point of contact for that person.

Dementia Support Workers

Provide ongoing support and guidance to people with dementia their carers and families. This includes one to one support delivered face to face and over the phone. They are also present at Dementia Cafes to provide specialist support in a social group setting.

Carers Information Support Programme (CRISP)

- CRISP 1 - a four week workshop specifically for carers of people living with dementia. Each week a particular topic will be covered, e.g. understanding dementia, legal and money matters, support and care, coping day-to-day, giving carers relevant information and guidance.
- CRISP 2 - designed specifically for carers, family members and friends of people who have been living with dementia for some time. There are three 2.5 hour sessions covering: understanding how dementia progresses, living with change as dementia progresses, living well as dementia progresses, including occupation and activities.

Memory Cafes

There are Memory Cafes throughout the East Riding of Yorkshire offering an informal environment for those affected by memory problems, their carers, family and friends. People can come along on a 'drop-in' basis to exchange experiences; take part in activities and receive practical tips and emotional support, all within a relaxed friendly atmosphere.

Many people make friends and are able to support each other outside of the café which helps to reduce the isolation often felt by people with dementia, their carers and family.

Singing for the brain

A stimulating group activity for people in the early to moderate stages of dementia and their carers which can help with general well-being and confidence.

Befriending

Connects people living with dementia together with a trained volunteer giving them lots of opportunities to do more of the things they enjoy, either out in the community, or at home.

Audit and Integrated Governance Committee (AIGC) Update

At the September meeting, the Audit and Integrated Committee (AIGC) focused on the following areas:

- A CCG Risk Register Analysis - KPMG has undertaken a benchmarking exercise to compare risk registers and related review processes across its wide range of CCG clients. It reviewed the risk registers of 49 CCGs from across the country and identified the most significant and commonly occurring risks. Financial and contracting issues clearly dominate the risk agenda. Of the most significant and common risks, there are three which are significantly more prevalent such as:

- Failure to meet contract performance targets, contract governance arrangements, failure to deliver savings
- Quality, Innovation, Productivity and Prevention (QIPP) targets
- CCG financial pressures and targets

CCGs have been tasked with using the analysis to validate or challenge their own risks and the associated risk review processes

- An Information Governance update incorporating a review of the CCG's Information Governance Framework and Records Management Policy - refreshed versions of these documents are now available on the CCG website www.eastridingofyorkshireccg.nhs.uk/publications/policies/
- A Consultation on Regulations for NHS Bodies' Auditor Panels - The Department of Health has developed draft regulations to implement new constitutional requirements for the Audit Committees (acting as auditor panels) of NHS Trusts and Clinical Commissioning Groups (CCGs). These are necessary to ensure Audit Committees are appropriately constituted to advise their governing board/body on the selection, appointment and maintenance of independent relationships with external auditors for their future audit contracts. The Department sought views on these regulations with consultation running from 28 July to 12 September 2014.

QPIC Update

Hull and East Yorkshire Hospital Trust Management of Serious Incidents

At the beginning of the year commissioners highlighted some concerns with regards to Hull and East Yorkshire Hospitals NHS Trust's management of serious incidents. In response to this, we have been working with the Trust to make sure that, going forwards, a robust process is in place to ensure the best outcomes for patients and their families. An update on the progress of this work was presented to the committee highlighting the extent of the review undertaken by the trust and the changes that have been developed as a result.

Yorkshire Ambulance Service Performance Issues

As a commissioner, we have a duty to ensure that the services provided for the population of East Riding are safe. Monitoring of performance measures is a key element of assuring the quality of those services. Ongoing monitoring of the service provided by Yorkshire Ambulance Services (YAS) highlighted some areas that were underperforming. We continue to work with YAS on a range of key actions to ensure that the target of '75% of emergency calls are responded to within 8 minutes' is delivered across Yorkshire and Humber.

Out and about with Sally-Ann Spencer Grey

Winter is on its way along with the coughs, colds and sniffles! Note to self - get a flu jab and stock up on cold remedies from the chemist. If you need flu jab then contact your GP! I've also signed up to be an Antibiotic Guardian www.antibioticguardian.com as we use them way too much - remember antibiotics cannot help with flu or cold like symptoms.

The highlights for me from the last few months are:

Work on shaping services at Goole Hospital and deciding what a Health Campus should look like has begun with members of the public from Goole, NHS providers, the local authority, voluntary sector and the CCG. We are all working together to develop robust and sustainable services - still in discussion but many more about actions!

3 good events I have attended:

The Joint Strategic Needs Assessment (JSNA) run by Public Health looking at the health and social care needs for people living in the East Riding today and in the future.

Some key points which fit with the CCG's priorities were to:

- Support good parenting.
- Reduce isolation.
- Support the early diagnosis and treatment of dementia.
- Recognise and support unpaid carers (family and friends).
- Encourage people to look after themselves better to keep healthy and maintain independence at home and into old age.

Humber FT Mental Health Recovery College Workshop - attended by service users, carers, NHS providers and the voluntary sector looking at the feasibility of establishing a Recovery College for Hull and the East Riding. The college will use education as an approach to help people develop their ability to manage their own lives, form stronger social relationships, achieve a sense of purpose and gain the skills they need for living and working. Future events are planned.

Young people leading change event - We know that as a CCG we could engage much more effectively with children and young people so a CCG colleague and I attended this event in York, to see what we could do in the future and we came away with lots of ideas! We heard about the 'Change Your Mind about Young People' programme where young people work with GP practices to help them address young people's needs. We found out about online Digital Badges, helping young people's understanding and involvement in health through education activities. Finally members of Great Ormond Street Hospital (GOSH) talked about their Youth Forum where adolescent patients are involved in advising the trust on improving patient experience.

Healthwatch Directory

Healthwatch East Riding of Yorkshire is a new independent voice for the people of the East Riding, helping to shape, challenge and improve local health and social care services.

Their 'Health & Social Care Support Directory 2014' is a free guide to help you navigate your way around the complex range of health and social care services and support groups available to you in the East Riding.

Information is also included on local NHS Health Trusts and Commissioners along with guidance on where to go for help in an emergency; how to choose a GP; understanding health and social care funding and personal health budgets; how to provide feedback and make complaints; how to remain independent at home; care in the home; what help is available to carers; and choosing the right care home.

Copies of the directory are available from a range of health and social care establishments including GP surgeries, care homes, day centres and libraries.

You can also view the directory online at www.healthwatcheastridingofyorkshire.co.uk

WORKING TOGETHER TO IMPROVE HEALTH AND WELLBEING

Improving your health and wellbeing

The next few years will see a major transformation in the way health and social care services are delivered to people in the East Riding of Yorkshire as NHS East Riding of Yorkshire Clinical Commissioning Group, Vale of York Clinical Commissioning Group and East Riding of Yorkshire Council begin to work more closely together with a number of different partners to improve the quality of people's health and wellbeing.

What the future holds

Our aim is to offer an improved, joined up health and social care service that provides better support to patients at home and earlier treatment in the community to prevent them needing urgent care in hospital or early admission into care homes.

What we're doing

GPs, hospitals, health workers, clinicians and social care staff will increasingly be working together side by side, sharing information and taking a more co-ordinated approach to the way services are delivered.

Our focus will be to look after individual's conditions as a whole and not treat them separately. This means a patient's health, care and support will be co-ordinated and tailored to their needs and preferences as well as those of their carer and family.

More emphasis will be placed on patients and families taking charge of their condition through self-management and shared decision making with clinicians. Treatment and care will be provided as locally as possible.

How we're working together

Partners are working together on a number of different projects that will offer better care, more locally, to people in their own homes, the community, our hospitals and care homes.

Locality Hubs

A new initiative introducing Locality Hubs is being piloted in Goole, Howden and West Wolds areas. It will see patients with multiple long-term conditions have a named worker co-ordinating their care and care plan. If the patient's condition deteriorates they can contact their named worker who will carry out checks in their home, reducing the need for the patient to go into hospital and helping to maintain their independence.

Prevention and self-care

We want to empower people to manage their own physical and mental health where it is safe and appropriate to do so and encourage them to make positive lifestyle choices that keep them healthy and reduce the likelihood of them becoming ill. To support this we will provide improved access to information and advice, directing people to the right help and support that enhances their understanding of their condition.

We're also developing more services in the community not just health services but initiatives aimed at getting people involved and taking an active part in their local community. This will help to increase their independence, improve their health and wellbeing whilst reducing isolation and loneliness.

Single point of contact

A new single point of contact across both health and social care will support our joined-up way of working.

This one access point will help ensure that residents get the right information, advice and support that they need regarding health or care in a timely and efficient way.

It will also be an important single point of contact for general practitioners, social care workers, district nurses, occupational therapists, hospital discharge staff etc to ensure that patients' needs are coordinated effectively.

Shared records

We are working towards having a safe and secure electronic system for sharing medical records between professionals. This will give those involved in the care and treatment of patients a better understanding of their health history allowing them to make more reliable, informed decisions much quicker and the ability to accelerate patients' access to services. It also means that patients do not have to repeat the same information again and again to clinicians, health workers or social workers.

Future aspirations and benefits to patients

The new system will ensure people receive the right care and support at the right time, in the right place.

- Patients most at risk of going into hospital will be identified
- Clinicians will work with patients to agree a combined package of treatment, care, support and advice designed to help them better understand and manage their condition
- Patients will see a reduction in the number of assessments they need and quicker transfers between services
- Patients will become more empowered to take ownership of their health which will help them remain independent for longer
- Patients needing hospital services will be supported by clinicians, social care staff and the community to help them return home with the right support in place in a timely manner to aid continued independence

"I suffer from COPD and diabetes and was always anxious about spending time in hospital. Now with my new support team I feel much happier. I have a personal care plan and a dedicated number to ring. If I don't feel well the support team will come out to see and treat me in my own home or a local clinic. Everyone has a copy of my care plan so they all know about my health history.

It's been great. I now understand my condition a lot more and the best thing is I haven't been admitted to hospital since."

Gladys, 80 – Beverley

"This is a new and ambitious approach to delivering the best possible health and wellbeing to the residents of the East Riding.

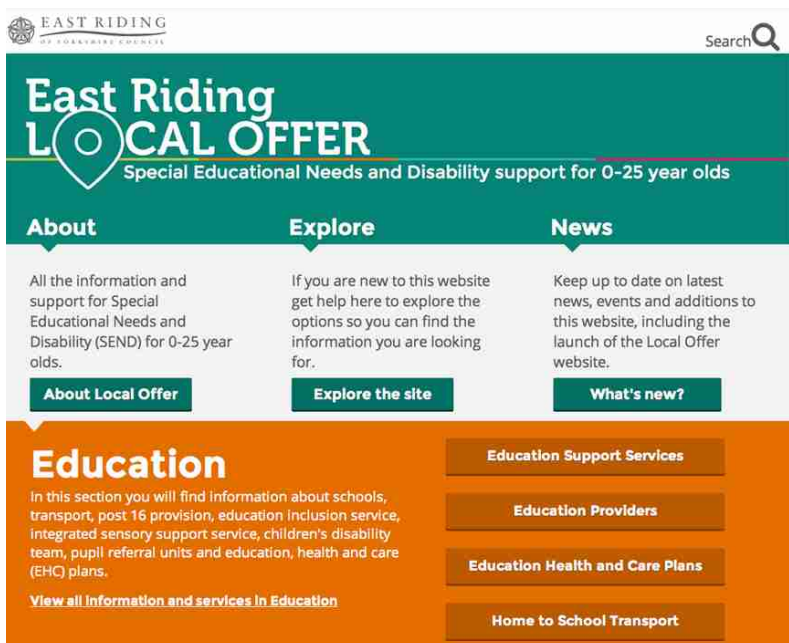

At the heart of this is our desire to support and empower our residents to live healthier, longer, independent lives, providing the health and social care most appropriate to them when needed."

New online directory for Special Educational Needs and Disability

Local Offer is a new website launched by East Riding of Yorkshire Council, in partnership with East Riding of Yorkshire Clinical Commissioning Group, for children and young people, aged 0-25 with Special Educational Needs and Disability (SEND).

It provides help for parents and young people to get a better understanding of what services are available to them, and which are most appropriate to their needs. In addition to this it will:

- Help people understand what schools and service providers are required to do for SEND children and young people.
- Help the parents and carers of young people with SEND find support for themselves.
- Make clear who is responsible for services for SEND children and young people.
- Give information needed to ensure SEND child and young people can thrive.
